INTRODUCTION

Greetings for '54:

We again take great pleasure in presenting our 1954 catalog for your approval. We wish to thank all our many customers of years past and also say thank you, to those who purchase from us this year. For it is you who are making it possible to continue our service. We have about 2 acres of top quality plants just waiting to go on their way to your gardens. This year as we did last year we will ship on the date the customer wishes. But this year please give us a few days lee-way for it was quite a problem last July when several hundred orders were due out at the same time. We are adding new facilities to help out along this line, also so that you will get your order as soon as possible. We ship our plants to all states and countrys for all plants are state inspected.

Now we would like to tell you a little bit about ourselves. Ours is a family run business, with the four of us furnishing the back power (which all you gardeners know you must have). Mom is in charge of all the watering, while Dad does the weeding and helps with the digging. Joan does the office end of it while I do most of the digging and packing and when time allows some weeding. Our plants are grown under regular garden conditions, watered at the proper time, and cultivated at the proper time. This way our plants seem to take hold better assuring you better growth. Many people are finding that by ordering California grown plants they are able to take advantage of several months growth and increase yielding larger clumps the following year. California grown plants are perfectly hardy anywhere except those listed as tender in colder climates. As you know our catalog goes all over the world and there is many sections where these tender varieties do very well. This I believe gives us a very good reason for listing them. We are listing a little over half of our planting, so if there is any variety omitted that you would like let us know. Perhaps we might have it. This year we are dropping some 100 very old and cheap varieties, we just can't ship 20c varieties with the increase in parcel post rates, but you will notice our collections and lower prices on the standard varieties.

Although you are welcome at any time here at the gardens, we now give you a special invitation to visit us at blooming time and enjoy our beautiful flowers with us. The blooming season reaches its peak the last week of April and lasts till the middle of May as a rule. We are located mid-way between U.S. 99 and U.S. 66, 4 blocks east of Peck Rd., north of Lower Azusa Rd. 3 blocks. This past year saw guests here from Canada and 14 States. In closing we wish to say again this year "Our business is small, and we don't want all the orders but we do want YOURS."

ONCOBREDS

In this section you will find one of the most interesting types of iris grown. All of them are descendants from native iris that come from in and around the Holy Land. As a rule it is difficult to grow the native species, but thanks to Clarence White and other modern day hybridizers we are now able to grow and enjoy these most wonderful plants. The native species have been crossed and recrossed with out tall bearded iris that grow so easy, so now we have a race of iris that grow very good and have all the charm and beauty of the Oncocyclus and Regelia natives. As a rule most of these are hardy in the open. Others will require some protection in the colder spots. In any case it is well worth it. We will advise you when you order when a tender variety is listed.

DAYLILIES-HEMEROCALLIS

Daylilies are one plant that should be in every garden. They take over where spring flowers leave off. They bloom from late spring till frost. They come in an assortment of many, many colors. Also they may be planted in shade or full sun. No pests to bother these beauties for they grow and bloom for you without any trouble at all. Leave them planted in a clump for several years and the flowers are larger and many more bloom scapes are produced. Most all varieties listed are hardy from Canada southward so make it a point to introduce yourself to these beauties.

The divisions we send out are large and heavy. In all instances when stock permits will be double or better. All stock will be wet packed so as to be received as fresh as possible. Daylilies will be sent when you desire them.
